- The last Match of the Week in the 2023/24 season of the EHF Champions League Women features the only two teams that have lifted the trophy since 2017: Györi Audi ETO KC (champions in 2017-19) and Vipers Kristiansand (2021-23).

- Győr start the second leg of their quarter-final with a seven-goal advantage, having beaten Vipers 30:23 in Norway last week – the biggest winning margin of all four quarter-finals.

- Before the quarter-finals, Győr had lost the last three meetings with Vipers, including the 2022 final and 2023 semi-final at the EHF FINAL4 in Budapest.

- Vipers goalkeeper Katrine Lunde is the only player in history with seven CL titles, including two with Győr; she faces fellow Norway national team goalkeeper Silje Solberg-Østhassel in the MOTW.

- Vipers right wing Jana Knedlikova is the only player with six consecutive CL titles, having lifted the trophy three times with both Győr and Vipers.

- With five titles in total, Győr are the record CL winners; Vipers became the second team to win the title three straight years after Győr had done it before.

- Győr are also the record holders when it comes to EHF FINAL4 participations: eight; they only missed the second edition of the tournament in 2014/15, when they lost to WHC Vardar in the quarter-finals.

- That year marked the only time so far that the winners of the CL failed to qualify for the EHF FINAL4 in the following season.

- Five Norwegians are part of Győr's squad: Silje Solberg-Østhassel, Emilie Hovden, Stine Oftedal, Kari Dale Bratsett, and Veronica Kristiansen.

- Two Győr players were named IHF World Player of the Year in the past: Stine Oftedal in 2020, Sandra Toft the following year; Vipers' Katrine Lunde was awarded MVP of the 2022/23 season at the inaugural EHF Excellence Awards in June 2023.

- Last week's first leg was the first international match for Per Johansson as head coach of Győr, having replaced Ulrik Kirkely after the group phase.

- Per Johansson previously coached CL clubs CSM Bucuresti and Rostov-Don; at the latter club, he was coach of current Vipers right back and CL top scorer with 107 goals, Anna Vyakhireva.

- Győr's leading scorer, French centre back Estelle Nze Minko, has scored 67 goals so far.

- Also in charge of the Dutch national team, Per Johansson will face a key player from the Netherlands squad in this MOTW: Vipers left back Lois Abbingh.
